Soviets Charge Warships Buzzed By Allied Planes

LONDON (AP) — Radio Moscow charged today that two Soviet warships which passed through the English Channel this week were buzzed by Allied planes, shadowed by submarines and nearly rammed by an unlighted motor vessel.

The Soviet broadcast, quoting an article in the navy organ Red Fleet, said the treatment of the ships was an "international scandal."

The British navy and air force declined comment.

The 14,000-ton Russian cruiser Mikhail Kutuzov and an escorting destroyer, en route from Leningrad to the Mediterranean, passed through the channel Wednesday and Thursday.

Red Fleet said Danish submarines shadowed the two ships through the Baltic Sea. Unidentified undersea craft took up the surveillance in the channel, the navy organ said.

About Town

And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

SUMMER is drawing closer to an end and football season is approaching and my crab grass is seeding.

And Stanley Medley has his prickly pears.

I went out to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Medley at 212 West O'Garra the other day to see their Mexican prickly pear that is growing out in their back yard.

They got it in Colorado four years ago and leave it out all winter, not protecting it whatsoever.

Last year, Stanley said, the plant had but one pear but this spring it was covered with beautiful yellow blooms and had 19 pears.

The small, reddish fruits are not quite ripe yet. When you get to the inside of them, they have a good taste, Stanley said, and they make good jelly.

The Medleys also have quite a number of other cacti and a rubber plant.

SHERIFF BARRETT is getting a list of auto license numbers. And he has the books right on the counter in the court house where he can learn to whom the licenses are issued.

Sheriff Barrett has been getting complaints from people who live in the country about couples parking their cars in their driveways. Some have sneaked out and got the license numbers and turned them in to the sheriff, who can then determine just who is trespassing.

The sheriff is suggesting that this parking practice be stopped.

European Tour of Wintizers and Walls Filled with Pleasure

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wintizer and Mrs. L. L. Walls, neighbors and friends of long standing and residents of RFD 4, Harrisburg, have recently returned from the latest of many happy vacation trips which they have taken together. This year they went "farther and faster" than they had ever done before, to make a tour of England and the continent of Europe. They left their homes at 6 a. m. the morning of July 6, boarded a plane at Evansville for New York, arrived at 6 p. m., embarked for London on a TWA flight scheduled to arrive at 6 a. m. July 7. About 800 miles this side of the English coast, they "lost" an engine, meaning that one of the four motors was out of service. The plane was landed at Shannon, Ireland, for repairs and the trip was extended to 13½ hours to London. Pretty exciting for passengers on their very first flight, and Mrs. Wintizer said that she had never been in a plane before. They were a little uneasy, but no one seemed to be really frightened.

Toured Continent
The four remained together for a tour of the continent, going by bus and boat through England,

Army May Close Posts

Major Forts Will Be Involved if Further Military Cuts Go Through

WASHINGTON (AP) — Informed sources said today the closing of some major Army posts probably will follow the Army's latest economy measures if expected new manpower cuts go through.

As a result of the 50,000-man cut already ordered and a spending limit of $8,550,000,000 for the current fiscal year the Army Friday announced:

—Sixteen depots, arsenals and other facilities will be closed between now and the end of calendar year 1958.

—Division strength will be reduced from 17 to 16 by January 1958 by replacing the 2nd Infantry Division in Alaska with a "streamlined force" that obviously will be smaller than the under-strength one now there.

—Eighteen anti-aircraft battalions, equipped with 90 and 120 mm. guns, will be cut out.

May Close Forts

—Civilian jobs will be cut down 15,000.

Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson ordered the Army to reduce its strength one million men to 950,000 by next Jan. 1. Further cuts in the Army's size now are considered inevitable.

The Army has been quietly informing congressmen over the past several days that new cuts would mean closing some major posts. The effect — intended or not — was expected to be to generate opposition to further Army manpower cuts.

The Army has confirmed a report by Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.), of the House Armed Services Committee that further manpower cuts could mean the closing of Forts Jackson, S. C.; Gordon, Ga.; Chaffee, Ark., and Carson, Colo. The four forts were among the ones being studied, the Army said, "in reference to possible future cuts in Army strength." It said no decisions had been reached.

The latest Army economy moves followed a series of Defense Department, Navy and Air Force steps to hold military spending at $38 billion dollars in the year that started July 1.

Total military manpower will come down from 2,800,000 to 2,700,000 by Jan. 1. Wilson has said a further 200,000-man cut is under study. If it materializes, the Army would be expected to take a large share of it.

Draft calls already have been reduced to 7,000 for October and civilian hiring has been frozen while the services have made plans to drop 53,000 civilian employees.

Announce Civilian Cuts

The Air Force and Navy have cut back aircraft production and stretched out delivery schedules. The Navy will mothball 61 ships.

Petroleum purchases are being slashed by 115 million dollars to a total of 170 million dollars. The Air Force has cancelled two expensive projects — the Navaho guided missile program and the XF103 jet interceptor.

The Army said it was reducing civilian employment by 1,713 at headquarters here during fiscal 1958 and would drop 217 civilians at subordinate headquarters throughout the world in the same period.

To Prosecute Motorists Speeding In Dorris Heights

Sheriff William T. Barrett today said he planned to prosecute motorists who speed on the Dorris Heights road. Barrett said that residents who have complained of speeding are going to get license numbers of the speeding automobiles and turn them in to the sheriff's office for prosecution.

2 Women Claim Threatened In Libel Trial

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Two women said Friday they had been threatened in connection with the criminal libel trial of Confidential and Whisper magazines.

French-born actress Corinne Calvet, subject of a Confidential article, told Deputy District Attorney William Ritz that an investigator for the magazine had told her to slant her testimony in favor of the magazine if she was called to the stand.

The former wife of onetime featherweight boxing champion Chalky Wright also said she had been threatened over the telephone. Wright had been subpoenaed to testify about an article in Confidential, as a defense witness, but he died 13 days ago in a bathtub accident.

Novelist William Bradford Huie, defense witness, said several lines were deleted from an article he wrote for the magazine, over his own objections. He said he did not consider the material obscene or libelous.

Fred Meade, co-defendant with his wife Marjorie in the trial, said his firm, Hollywood Research Inc., had paid $750 to one man for information used in an article about Joan Crawford and $1,000 to another for information allegedly involving actresses Lana Turner and Ava Gardner.

Dr. Delbert Trotter Jr. is now associated with Dr. L. I. Webb in the practice of dentistry at the Dr. Webb offices, 14 West Walnut.

Dr. Trotter, graduate of the University of Kansas City School of Dentistry with the class of 1957, and his wife and baby daughter are residing at 5 West Park street.

His parents have been residents of Benton for about 10 years, coming to southern Illinois from Oklahoma. His father is with the Shell Oil Company as an operator.

No Signs of Foul Play

Workmen Find Bodies of Three Missing Girls in Muddy Quarry

DIXON, Ill. (AP) — A group of workmen found the bodies of three small sisters early today in a flood-lighted, muddy quarry.

The girls, Nancy, 10, Theresa, 8, and Ruthie Guernsey, 9, had been missing since last Wednesday afternoon when they were seen playing at the rim of the 50-foot quarry.

A small army of workers had shoveled through the night against a maddening sea of mud, while floodlights pierced a heavy fog which shrouded the hilly timberland.

Police said there were no signs the girls had met foul play. All were found lying fully clothed under a massive tree, one of the many authorities had been hauling out of the clay mire since Friday night.

Sandal Starts Search

National Guardsmen, state police, deputies and hundreds of volunteers had trudged through the surrounding area Friday, when one of them "happened to kick up" a sandal belonging to one of the girls.

Digging operations began shortly afterwards, uncovering the other five shoes, the little girls' socks neatly tucked inside. Mr. and Mrs. John Guernsey, parents of the girls, identified the shoes as those of their daughters.

Dixon Police Commissioner Fred Hofmann doubted foul play but cited the possibility the girls may have been playing along the slope of the quarry, perhaps in a pocket, and were buried under a landslide. A nearby cement plant had been filling in the pit with tons of clay and sand the day of the disappearance.

Rain Hampers Workers

Hofmann said 75 to 85 workers manning hand shovels had been gnawing into the saucer-shaped pit, aided by two tractors and three cranes, but that torrential afternoon rains had increased their work a hundred-fold.

The little girls were seen playing near the lip of the quarry Wednesday by a shovel operator. Other workmen were around at the time, Hofmann said, which made the idea of foul play improbable.

He could offer no reason, however, why the sisters had removed their shoes, there being no ponds nearby in which they could go wading.

Coroner Robert Preston said an examination performed on the bodies of the girls by Dr. Emory Streuser, a pathologist, indicated the children died of suffocation. An inquest will be held late today, Preston said.

The parents of the girls had been up without sleep for two days, Hofmann said, but had gone home shortly before the discovery of the bodies.

Hofmann said a landslide at the quarry could have buried the girls 30 feet below the surface within minutes.

Carlyle Boy Killed, 5 Hurt in Auto Crash

CARLYLE, Ill. (AP) — An automobile collision near here Friday night resulted in the death of an 11-year-old boy and injuries to five other persons.

Illinois state police said Gary Rutledge, Carlyle, was killed when the car in which he was riding was struck in the rear by a car driven by Leo Macke, 21, Breese. The accident occurred on U. S. 50, just west of here.

The boy's brother, Ralph, 16, was driving the car. He and another brother, Kenneth, 14, and three other passengers were also injured.

They were Paul Johnson, 18; Marvin Donnagan, 20, and Garra Forth, 15, all of Carlyle.

All were taken to a hospital near Breese.

Stonefort's 59th annual Soldiers and Sailors Reunion is scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

The event is always well attended, drawing capacity crowds to the reunion grounds located on Route 45, at the Stonefort village limits.

Charge Federal Agencies with Heating Waste

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators charged today that federal agencies are wasting large sums of money by using other fuels in place of coal for heating buildings.

A special House Interior subcommittee which studied the "sick" coal industry for 15 months sharply criticized the space-heating policies of some government agencies.

It charged that agencies are converting from coal to oil or gas, or installing oil or gas facilities in new buildings, without regard for costs.

The subcommittee report said this was "damaging to the domestic coal industry, detrimental to the national security, and a sheer waste of funds."

The subcommittee suggested that the government consider requiring each agency to get a recommendation from the Bureau of Mines on what fuel to use whenever it is constructing a new facility or modernizing an existing one.

It also urged that coal producers be given a "more equitable" depletion allowance, and that part of these savings in turn be spent on pure and applied research, engineering, and proving ground operations.

Senate Group Adjourns in Exasperation

Hoffa Discharged But Will Be Recalled Later

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO will demand that the Teamsters Union answer charges made by the Senate Rackets Committee against Teamster Vice President James R. Hoffa, informed sources said today.

The committee, adjourning in disbelief and exasperation, left Hoffa alone with his dim memories and bright chances of becoming president of the nation's biggest union.

The committee discharged Hoffa Friday, handing him only a subpoena for his personal records and telling him to come back later for more questions. But informed sources believed he would not be recalled until after the union's convention Sept. 30, when Hoffa is expected to succeed Dave Beck, who is retiring as president in the wake of committee charges that he misused more than $300,000 of union funds.

Before the convention, the Teamsters are in trouble with the big labor federation. The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee meets Sept. 5-6 to consider charges that the Teamsters are dominated by corrupt influences.

At that time, labor sources said, it will sock the Teamsters with the 48-point bill of particulars compiled by the Senate committee, accusing Hoffa of associating with — and using — gangsters, goons and gunmen in his rise to power and engaging in "questionable" financial deals.

On Sept. 24-25 — still prior to the Teamster convention — the AFL-CIO Executive Council will convene in special session in New York to act on the report of its Ethical Practices Committee. The council has power to order the Teamsters to clear house or face expulsion from the AFL-CIO.

The Teamsters' own executive board — with Hoffa a member — is scheduled to meet Monday in Los Angeles to consider a reply to charges already brought by the ethical practices group.

Senate Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) halted the questioning of Hoffa in its fourth day, saying it had proceeded "to the point where the witness has no memory" and it would be "a waste of time" to continue.

Hoffa's answers had faded to a theme of "I don't remember" — as the questions grew tougher — questions about his relations with his friend Johnny Dio, convicted New York labor racketeer; about charges that he allied with Dio to set up hoodlum-staffed phony locals to seize control of the Teamsters in New York; about charges of a long-continued association with gangsters, extortionists and goons.

He hit some sort of peak when asked whether he fitted witnesses with miniature wire recorders so he could hear their testimony to a Detroit grand jury.

"To the best of my recollection I must recall or my memory I cannot remember," said Hoffa.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND
by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Joe Martin Pad Hurt Feelings
Over Civil Rights Fight; Lyndon Johnson Got So Much Civil Rights Credit That Republicans Had To Stall For Time; Some Republicans Chafed At Joe Martin's Delay.

WASHINGTON.—Several backstage factors, hassles, and wire-pullers caused all the backing and filling over the civil rights bill.

One was the fact that Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas got so much credit for putting across the Senate bill that the Republicans had to figure out how they could get more credit. One way was to stall and claim that the Senate bill was a bad bill.

Another factor was Vice President Nixon who consistently and energetically pulled wires for delay. He had fought hard to defeat the jury trial amendment, lost that fight, and felt that if the civil rights bill went over till the next session of Congress, the Senate would be in Republican hands and he could then win. It was Nixon's California friends in the House Republican conference who fought hardest for a tougher civil rights bill.

Another hassle was between Republican factions. In some respects they were almost as split as the Democrats.

Finally, there was the unusual spectre of an Alphonse-Gaton act between two old friends who are not usually prima donnas. Speaker Sam Rayburn, Democrat, of Texas, and ex-Speaker Joe Martin, Republican, of Massachusetts.

For a while neither would speak to the other about breaking the deadlock in the House Rules committee. Joe even told the four Republican members of that committee that he didn't want them to do anything about getting a vote on civil rights until Speaker
Sam approached him.

JOE'S HURT FEELINGS
Real fact was that good old Joe Martin, supposed to be as tough a politician as ever served in Washington, had hurt feelings. He would never admit this, but friends say it was a fact. Perhaps he was justified.

For when the battling over civil rights reached its toughest point in the House of Representatives, Joe Martin sat down at breakfast with Clarence Mitchell, Washington representative of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Name by name they went over the list of wayward Republicans.

These were the seventy Republicans who planned to line up with the South on the jury trial amendment. Joe knew these men intimately, told Mitchell how to influence their vote. He himself also went to bat to win their vote. And it was because of his own energetic work that the jury trial amendment was so overwhelmingly defeated in the House.

But today, having used his personal efforts to defeat the jury trial amendment, Joe is in the position of having to swallow it.
That's why he's irked and waited for his old friend Sam Rayburn to approach him first.

STORMY GOP CAUCUS

Martin had a rough time keeping some of his GOP colleagues with him in the closed door GOP strategy meeting on civil rights the other day. A few even walked out.

"We are engaged in a war of nerves," Joe made an impassioned plea. "I'm willing to stay here until Thanksgiving, if necessary, to obtain a stronger civil rights bill."

"I don't want to be kept here anymore than you do," the ex-Speaker continued. "I want to eat my Thanksgiving dinner back home in Massachusetts. But as long as the Democrats remain tough and uncompromising in this fight, we Republicans will be just as tough."

Rep. Charles Gubser of California, who has few if any Negroes in his district and no political reason to be strong for civil rights other than his close friendship with Nixon, then offered a resolution putting the Republicans on record as fully supporting Martin in efforts to obtain a "stronger, more effective and better civil rights measure."

In the voice vote that followed, only about half of those present voted "Aye." There was a loud chorus of "No's" which didn't please either Martin or the Nixonites.

Finally another motion was offered, promising support for Martin in his efforts to obtain a "stronger and more effective" bill.

"I can't go along with that," shouted De Witt Hyde of Maryland. "I object to the word
'stronger'."

The motion was adopted, however, with Hyde and another Marylander, General James Des-ereux, Marine hero of Wake Island, voting "no."

PHILOSOPHICAL MR. SAM

Over on the other side of the House of Representatives, Speaker
Sam Rayburn was more philosophical about his trouble with Virginia's slow-poke Howard Smith.

"When I am asked when Congress will adjourn," Sam told other congressmen, "I am reminded of the story about the farmer who got his leg caught in a rope tied to a runaway horse."

"A neighbor asked the farm, who was being dragged along the ground, where he was going. The farmer yelled back, 'Ask the horse.'"

"Judging by Howard Smith's behavior in this civil rights battle," said Mr. Sam, "maybe you ought to ask him, not me, when Congress is going to adjourn."

CIVIL RIGHTS-GO-ROUND

One factor pushing toward a compromise civil rights bill has been the NAACP. Its leaders felt it was more important to get a bill passed and a civil rights assistant attorney general appointed in the Justice Department than to squabble over details. It will take some time for the Justice Department to set up a civil rights division and start functioning.

Many Republicans figure that strict enforcement of civil voting rights for Negroes can reverse Democratic control of the House and Senate in 1958. Most Negro newspapers also favored a civil rights bill bird in the hand rather

New Admission Fees on State Parks Of 100 Acres or More Effective in '58

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(Special)—A new state law which provides for expanding admission fees to all Illinois state parks of 100 acres or more, will not become effective until April 1, 1958, according to William R. Allen, Peoria, state park superintendent. Parks at which fees are now charged are Grand Marais, Mississippi Palisades, Illinois Beach, Matthiessen, Pere Marquette, Starved Rock and White Pines Forest.

The present charge of 10¢ per person over 12 and per car will continue at the seven large parks but next spring the tourist will be afforded the alternative of purchasing a windshield sticker for $2 which will be good all the year around and admit all car occupants to all parks where there is an admission fee. Otherwise the 10¢ charge per person and per car will be enforced.

Twenty-four state parks which comprise 100 acres or more, will be affected by the new admission fee law. Eleven other parks of less than 100 acres are not involved. One of the 11, Cave-in Rock, on State Route 1 in Hardin county and near the Ohio River, has only 65 acres but may pass the 100 acre mark by next spring.

New parks where the admission fee will be collected starting April 1, 1958, include:

Apple River Canyon in Jo Daviess county (157 acres); Beaver Dam in Macoupin county (425 acres); Black Hawk in Rock Island county (207 acres); Cahokia Mounds in Madison and St. Clair counties (144 acres); Fort Massac in Massac county (816 acres); Giant City in Jackson and Union counties (1,574 acres); Lake Le-Aqua-Na in Stephenson county (615 acres).

Lowden in Ogle County (across Rock River and northeast from Oregon off of Route Two—208 acres); Nauvoo in Hancock county (143 acres); Ramsey Lake in Fayette County (815 acres); Red Hills in Lawrence county (949 acres); Siloam Springs in Adams and Brown county (2,825 acres); Splitter Woods in Macon county (203 acres); and Weldon Springs in DeWitt county (120 acres).

State parks which in addition to Cave-in-Rock Park will not charge an entrance fee unless they reach the 100-acre mark, include:

Buffalo Rock in LaSalle county (43 acres); Channahon in Will county (adjoining Channahon on US6—part of the Illinois-Michigan Canal Parkway—20 acres); Fort Chartres in Randolph County (19 acres); Fort Creve Coeur in Tazewell county (87 acres); Fox River in LaSalle county (east of Ottawa off US6 and on State 71—64 acres); and Prophetstown in Whiteside county (53 acres).

Will County Circuit Judge James V. Bartley, Joliet, has recommended changes in the Illinois divorce act to the State Supreme Court. One suggestion is that the state's attorney be required to enter appearances in all divorce cases as a representative of the interests of the state, and with the state as an actual party.

Another suggestion is that where children are involved, they be made proper or necessary parties to a divorce case with the Public Defender's duties enlarged or another proper office created and be charged with the responsibility to enter appearances as guardian ad litem or as the attorney to protect the interest of minor children.

Other suggestions include legislation for proper supervision for children whose parents are divorced. If children are found neglected Bartley would have a court declare them wards of the court and dealt with under the Family Court Act, and where infidelity is charged the correspondent should be made a party with the right to appear and defend.

Illinois corn is getting taller with most recent reports showing it has reached a state average height of five feet—4 1/2 feet in the southern half of the state and six feet in the north. The information comes from C. A. Ewing, Springfield, head of the Illinois Cooperative Crop Reporting Service, a federal state agriculture project.

Ewing said Illinois corn last year at this time averaged about 6 feet and wound up the season with an average of 6 1/2 feet. He said the corn is tallest but spotted in Will county and in those counties in the northwest corner of the state. He listed Whiteside, Rock Island and Bureau counties as areas where corn is tallest. Corn in Kane and DuPage, he said, came under the heading "not so tall" with Adams "fairly tall."

Listed has having corn shorter than in other counties were Cook, St. Clair, Edwards, Madison, Montgomery and Wayne counties. Illinois growth, Ewing said, was slowed by wet weather. About half the corn crop is now in tassel with tasseling in southern Illinois from one fourth to one third late. Northern Illinois, he said, is much farther along because of less difficulties, with about two thirds of it in tassel.

State corn prospects are for a 430 million bushel crop this year as compared with 599 million last year and a ten-year average of 481 million, Ewing said. Yield per acre, according to Ewing, is expected to average 52 bushels this year as compared with an average of 68 bushels for last year and for an average of 53 1/2 bushels for the period of 1946-55.

Displayed Craft

In the eighteenth century, at "mop fairs," domestic and farm laborers would display themselves carrying some emblem to show their craft and farmers would hire them for the year.

Promotion of Jimmy Stewart to Brigadier General Is Refused

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The Senate Armed Services Committee refused today to approve the promotion of movie star Jimmy Stewart from colonel to brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve. Stewart's recommended promotion had been hanging fire for months. Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) had objected to it strongly on grounds that despite his admirable World War II record, Stewart had not been active enough in the reserves to warrant promotion.

Taste includes four qualities: sweetness, sourness, saltiness and bitterness.

In loving memory of Carlos Hicks who passed away five years ago, Aug. 25, 1952.

But in our hearts he liveth still.
Sadly missed by wife and daughter, Eunice and Judy. 49-1

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved husband and father, Gratton Price, whose passing was 8 years ago Aug. 24.
I seem to see in the soft, dim light
A face I loved the best.
And think of him when the sun's last ray
Goes down in the far-off west.
I miss you no less as the time passes on Than I did on the day of your going.
For absence can never close the door of my heart
And the lamp of my love is still glowing.
Your heart was the truest in all the wide world.
Your love the best to recall;
For no one on earth can take your place.
You are still the dearest of all.
Sadly missed by wife and children. 49-1

Items of Agricultural Interest

Anderson Named to Extension Teaching

URBANA—Ernest W. Anderson, Muncie, Indiana, has been named associate professor of agricultural extension in the University of Illinois College of Agriculture to further develop a continuing program of pre-service and in-service extension education.

Anderson's appointment is effective September 1. He is presently an assistant professor teaching educational and general psychology at Ball State Teachers College in Muncie.

In his new position, Anderson will take over the duties previously handled by W. D. Murphy in the College of Agriculture for the past three years. Murphy, also an associate professor of agricultural extension in the College, will again be an assistant state leader of farm advisers and will work in Extension District 3. The 22 east-central Illinois counties in this district previously had been the responsibility of F. E. Longmire who retires from active service with the College on September 1.

Anderson is a native of Rochester, Indiana and is a graduate of a normal course from Manchester College, North Manchester, Indiana. He received his B.S. degree in agricultural science in 1937, his M.S. degree in agricultural economics in 1949, and his Ph.D. degree in educational psychology in 1953, all at Purdue University.

Te taught in elementary schools in Indiana from 1927 until 1933 and was an instructor in poultry husbandry and extension poultryman at Purdue from 1947 until 1953. Since 1954, he has been an assistant professor in educational psychology at Ball State. His experience also includes two years of sales, research and advertising work with the American Butter Company, Kansas City, Missouri from 1937 to 1939.

For more than two years he has worked as a consultant with the General Electric Company in their instructor development program and also with the American Farm Bureau Federation in their Leadership Training Institute.

From September 8, 1940 to March 26, 1946, Anderson served in the artillery branch of the U. S. Army and reached the rank of Lt. Colonel. He served with troops and was on the teaching and administration staff of the Field Artillery School, Ft. Sill, Oklahoma; the Armored School, Ft. Knox, Kentucky; and taught at the Command and General Staff College during the summers of 1948, 1949, 1950 and 1951.

He is a member of the Poultry Science Association, the Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Psychological Association, Sigma Xi, Phi Delta Kappa, the National Education Association, the Indiana Psychological Association and the Reserve Officers Association.

Anderson is married and the father of two children.

According to the USDA, 100 bushels of wheat required 26-man hours of labor in the 1950-53 period. By comparison, 67 man-hours were required to produce 100 bushels of wheat in the 1935-39 period.

Seek State's Top 4-H Alumni For 1957-58 Honors

WOULD you like to nominate for special honors a former 4-H Club member who has become an outstanding citizen? This is now possible through the national 4-H Alumni Recognition program being conducted by the State Extension Service, and sponsored by Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, Plant Food Division, Little Rock, Ark. To be eligible, candidates should have performed some outstanding service, made a notable contribution to the community, state or nation, or displayed exceptional leadership. The person need not now reside in your state.

There are more than 21 million former 4-Hers throughout the country, and undoubtedly the beneficial influence of 4-H training and ideals has affected the lives of every one. Among them are men and women whom you know as friends and neighbors—such as farmers, housewives, the family doctor, teachers, local business men and legislators. By sending in the name of a qualified 4-H alumna, you may pave the way for well deserved recognition.

Two winners from each county will be named for special recognition certificates. Four outstanding persons will be honored in the state, and will receive a burnished copper and walnut plaque.

Eight men and women will be honored during an impressive banquet at the national 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next December. Besides the expense paid trip, each one will be presented with a gold 4-H alumni key, the national award. The 1958 candidates also will be selected at this time.

So don't delay—fill out the form below, clip and mail today.

How many grains of corn or soybeans will you leave in the field when your crops are harvested this fall? Every grain that is saved for the granary or the market place increases the chances for a profit. Properly adjusting the corn picker or the combine and operating the machines at the recommended speed is highly important to saving those extra grains that add to the profit side of the record book.

Emphatically bringing home this fact is the following information gathered from a state agricultural exhibit at the Illinois State Fair last week. It claimed that:

If a farmer is leaving soybeans behind at the rate of eight grains per square foot, he is losing $4 per acre. Suppose by changing the adjustment or the operating speed of the combine he is able to save two of those grains. Then he will save $1 per acre.

Now consider corn harvesting. If the corn picker is not in good condition (snapping and husking rollers worn or out of adjustment), or is being operated so that it does not do a clean job of picking corn and leaves an average of seven kernels per square foot, the farmer is losing $5 an acre in potential income. If he becomes aware of this loss and adjusts the machinery so that he cuts to four per square foot the number of kernels left in the field, he reduces his loss to $2.80 per acre. Any time a farmer can add $1 per acre to his soybean income, or $2.20 per acre for corn, the time used in getting the machinery to operate more efficiently is well spent.

Any farmer can use a simple procedure for checking on the amount of grain left in the field during harvesting operations. He can make a number of one-foot squares from some scraps of lumber. At least 10 or 12 squares should be placed at various spots along the route of the harvesting machine so as to get an average of the number of grain kernels falling in each square.

A combine has five major units that must be correctly adjusted to get proper results. These are: the cutting and feeding unit, the threshing unit, the separating unit, the cleaning unit, and the grain handling unit. These are common to all combines, but the adjustments may vary with brands of machines and for types of grain being harvested. Consequently, the manufacturer's manual of instructions should be followed carefully in making adjustments and in operating the machine.

The same advice regarding the use of a manual applies to successful operation of a corn picker.

Of course, any discussion of farm machinery operation includes a consideration of safety. It should be a constant watchword on the farm because preventing accidents is the road to security, good health, happiness, and profits. Haste, carelessness, and fatigue may lead to disaster. Every injury may mean loss of working time, costly doctor and hospital bills, sorrow and hardship, and serious financial setbacks.

How Long Can Meat Be Stored In a Freezer

It should be remembered that foods cannot be kept in the freezer indefinitely. Many complaints about unpalatable foods can be traced directly to the fact that the foods have been stored too long. To get the best use of a freezer, food should be constantly used and replenished. The following table is a good guide to use with reference to length of time meat should be stored:

Fresh pork—3 to 5 months
Beef—6 to 9 months
Lamb—6 to 9 months
Veal—6 to 9 months
Ground beef—Maximum of 6 months
Poultry—6 to 12 months

Wintzlers, Walls Enjoy European Tour

Rome, and in a more modern mood, were conducted to three night clubs, one very old, the "Grotto", one the "Nautilus", of medieval origin and a modern place. The Bridge of Sighs impressed upon them the feeling of antiquity, the Venetian art galleries thrilled them with paintings and works of the masters and the glass blowers and leather workers of Florence and Venice provided them with the opportunity to admire and acquire beauty to bring home with them.

London and Westminster Abbey, the Crown Jewels and the Tower of London were not omitted, nor was Paris with the Louvre, Notre Dame Cathedral and the Eiffel Tower and Arc de Triomphe. The train from Paris to Dijon, with its compartments, was enjoyed for its semi-privacy and smooth riding, by the travellers.

Family Group
Back in London after the 15-day tour, the Wintzlers took up the serious business of visiting with Capt. and Mrs. Charles Winterberger, the Wintzlers' son-in-law and daughter, Ona 13, Chuckie 7, and the five-month-old twins, Sybil and Tessie, the new grandchildren, added to the family since they visited Soline county two years ago. This family group made a trip into Wales and visited the Irish sea. This is one of the times when Mrs. Wintzler had to "pinch" herself to make sure it was she, who was having such a happy holiday.

During this time the Walls' made a five day trip into Scotland and found Edinburgh a wonderfully exciting place. There they went to Usher Hall and saw folkdancing that they feel they will remember always. They listened to a Bagpipes band contest, bright with the tartans and kilts of the Scottish full dress uniform. Mostly of retired army officers, these were most skilled players and one band had 105 pieces. The sound of the drums and bagpipes must have been terrific, but the Walls' enjoyed every minute of it.

Impressed By Band Concert
Cambridge cemetery in England left a lasting impression on the tourists, with its American monument styled with a giant Obelisk and attached building, housing a record of names of the American soldiers who were War casualties.

It is interesting that an outstanding performance in the minds of each family was a band concert. The Wintzlers were just as impressed with a benefit concert for the wives, widows and orphans of military personnel called "Tattoo" which was presented by English, French and American bands in full dress uniform before 60,000 people in White City amphitheatre, as the Walls' had been with the Scotch bagpipes. In "Tattoo", D-Day was re-enacted in a most realistic way, directed by the commanding officer who had directed the real D-Day.

The return to the states was not without incident, they met fellow travellers from Harrisburg, Mr. and Mrs. James Pepper, and two storms over the Atlantic ocean extended their travel time to 15½ hours.

There is no place for this story to end, and Mrs. Walls says that her 4th and 5th grade pupils at the East Ledford school, will be hearing something new from her memory of the trip, each school day, all winter. Her pupils should excel in Geography.

Permitted Acreage Under Soil Bank Program Explained

The "permitted acreage" under the Soil Bank's Acreage Reserve program is the maximum acreage of Soil Bank base crops which a farmer may harvest in accordance with the program, Herman Driskell, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee declared today.

"Two new terms—the 'Soil Bank base' and the 'permitted acreage'—will be heard a great deal this year in discussions about the Acreage Reserve program," the chairman explained. "These terms refer to an important new provision of the 1958 Acreage Reserve program, and it is essential that farmers fully understand their meaning."

The "Soil Bank base," according to Mr. Driskell, will be determined primarily on the basis of the average acreage of land devoted to harvested crops on the farm for the past two years—1956 and 1957. In addition to the "basic" crops—such as wheat, cotton, and corn—"Soil Bank" base crops include such crops as the grains, annual grasses cut for seed, and commercial vegetables.

Under the 1958 winter wheat Acreage Reserve program, for which sign-up agreements to participate are now available in County ASC offices, farmers will agree to limit their harvest of Soil Bank base crops to the farm's "permitted acreage." This limit is determined by subtracting the number of acres in the Reserve from the total in the Soil Bank base.

Chairman Driskell pointed out that a similar "base" was provided last year as a part of the Soil Bank's Conservation Reserve program, and where a farm already has a base established under this program, the same base will apply under the Acreage Reserve program. If both programs are in effect on a farm, the required reduction in harvested acres below the Soil Bank base will generally be the total of the acres in the Acreage Reserve and in the Conservation Reserve for that year.

Harvesting more total acreage from a farm than the "permitted acreage" would result in the loss of the entire Acreage Reserve payment.

Tri-State Shorthorn Fall Show, Sale at Albion on September 7

The Tri-State Shorthorn Breeders' Association will hold its annual fall show and sale at the Albion, Ill., Fairgrounds, Saturday, Sept. 7. The show will begin at 9:30 a. m., the sale at 12 noon. Everything that shows will be sold at auction with C. D. Swaffar, Tulsa, Okla., the auctioneer.

A total of 73 head, 15 bulls, 40 females and 18 calves at foot, will be consigned by 22 leading herds from Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Missouri. The offering is about evenly divided between Shorthorn and Polled Shorthorn.

The Tri-State Shorthorn Association was founded last spring.

Sow Rye For Fall Early Spring Pasture

URBANA — Rye seeded in late August or early September will usually furnish some late fall pasture. It will also come on early next spring and supply lots of green feed before other spring pastures are ready for grazing, says J. G. Cash, extension dairy specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Cash says that Balbo is the enerally recommended variety for seeding.

One acre of rye generally will carry two or three cows on good soil, according to the specialist. After the rye is pastured off in the spring, you can spread manure and seed the field to Sudan for late summer pasture the same year.

On many farms, a small acreage of rye will help to round out the pasture program. DHIA testers report that about a fifth of all members regularly seed rye for late fall and early spring pasture.

Key to Adjournment

Predict Speedy Passage of Bipartisan Rights Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress today held the key to adjournment—a bipartisan agreement to a compromise civil rights bill.

Speedy passage of the measure was predicted by all four top congressional leaders. Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland and House GOP Leader Joseph Martin Jr. said President Eisenhower would sign the bill.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said he expected the 1957 session of the 8th Congress now would be able to adjourn sine die by the end of next week.

Though southerners opposed the compromise bill with its modified jury trial amendment, they were not expected to try and stop it with a filibuster for fear of having to fight stiffer rights legislation next year.

The House Rules Committee, which for two weeks has bottled up the much rewritten bill, is expected to act Monday so the House can vote on it Tuesday.

In a series of conferences Friday, Democrats and Republicans worked out a compromise to guarantee jury trials only in major criminal contempt cases resulting from violations of court injunctions to protect voting rights. A federal judge would have discretion to try minor violations with or without a jury.

The compromise also spelled out penalties in minor cases. With a jury trial the maximum would be six months in jail, a $1,000 fine or both. If the judge in a non-jury trial imposed more than a 45-day jail term or $300 fine, then the defendant could demand and be guaranteed a jury trial.

Other congressional news:

FBI Files: The Senate hoped to reach a vote Monday on legislation to protect the sanctity of FBI files after agreeing to limit debate on the measure. The bill would restrict the Supreme Court's recent decision granting defendants in certain criminal cases the right to inspect FBI reports of government witnesses used against them. The bill would require the government to produce only written statements or records of oral statements made by the witness that would be pertinent to his testimony.

A-Blast Virtually Clear of Fallout

ANGELS PEAK, Nev. (AP)—The latest detonation of a nuclear device was made so high above the ground—about 1,500 feet in the air—that it resulted in virtually no radioactive fallout, scientists reported today.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the shot, fired Friday from a helium-filled balloon, was virtually "clean" because it was detonated so high above ground it did not suck up dirt from beneath the balloon.

Observers said the stem of the mushroom cloud formed by the blast failed to touch the earth. The flash of the fireball, however, was visible as a brilliant orange glow in the sky to the observers on this peak 55 miles from ground zero.

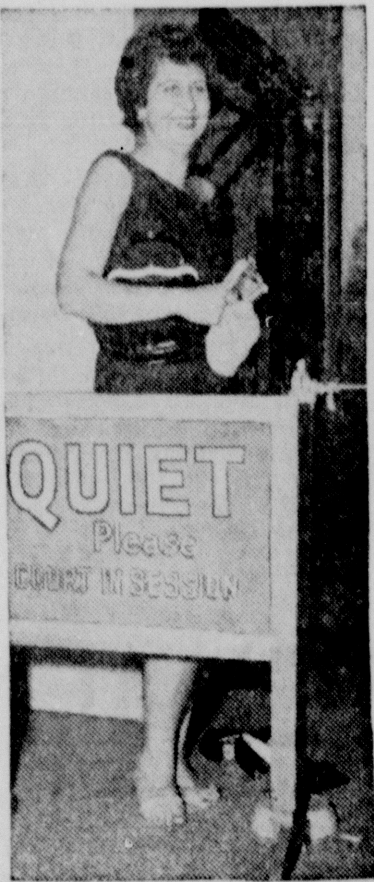

The AEC announced its next test was scheduled for Thursday, Aug. 29, and would be a tower shot.

Appropriations: Congress passed and sent to President Eisenhower the last two major appropriations bills of the session—$2,323,632,000 for the Atomic Energy Commission and $1,743,011,947 for military construction. The AEC bill carried funds for federal construction of five atomic reactors. The military construction measure was cut more than 230 million dollars below the President's request.

TVA: Senate Democrats hoped to block congressional approval of President Eisenhower's appointment of Arnold Jones to the Tennessee Valley Authority board. They indicated they wanted to force Eisenhower into giving a recess appointment to Jones, now deputy director of the budget. In this way, they said, they could judge Jones' performance after he served on a "trial" basis.

Three Boys Burn to Death

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP)—A marriage of 54 years ended recently when Mrs. Carrie Hariger, 83, Muskegon, was granted a divorce from Manley Hariger, 76, White Cloud, charged with deserting his wife in 1928.

HOT FEET, HOT TRIAL—Sue Sarafian, 24, gives her weary feet a rest at the entrance to the Los Angeles courtroom where the scandal trial of Confidential magazine is being heard. Sue stuck to her post ahead of long lines of eager spectators seeking entrance to the spicy hearings.

Johnstown, Pa. (AP)—Three boys burned to death in a flaming barn Friday while the grandmother of one saved cattle, not realizing the children were inside.

Burned beyond recognition in the fire at nearby Menor Heights, Somerset County, were John D. Poley Jr., 14, his brother, Donald, 10, and their cousin Peter Nitch Jr., 14. The Pebleys, who lived on a farm adjoining the Nitch property, were visiting their cousins.

The bodies of the boys, who had been playing inside a den made of hay bales, were not discovered until after the blaze had leveled the barn and adjoining milk shed.

Mrs. Mabel Geisel, a grandmother of the Nitch boy, said she was in the house when she heard two other Nitch children scream that the barn was on fire. She ran to the structure and managed to bring out two cows, not realizing Peter and his two cousins were inside.

Police said parents of the Nitch boy were in Johnstown delivering eggs when the fire was touched off. Mrs. Nitch was placed under a doctor's care.

Mr. Mathis is survived by his wife, Ernestine and his brothers, Westman Mathis, Ward Mathis and Marshall Mathis of Vienna and Frank Mathis of Albuquerque, N. M.

Hambletonian Day Motorists Urged To Use Caution

DU QUOIN, Ill. — Start early and let the nation's fastest horses supply your speed thrills on Hambletonian Day next Tuesday, Aug. 27. Lieutenant Earl Poque of the Illinois State Highway Police urged today.

With an all-time record crowd expected to pour into the Du Quoin State Fairgrounds before race time Tuesday afternoon, patrons should allow plenty of time to reach their destination, Lt. Poque said.

"If everyone will allow slightly more than an hour for each fifty miles of travel, obey speed zones, and observe the normal courtesies of good driving, we'll have a Hambletonian Day unmarred by accidents and fatalities."

Early estimates are that in excess of 50,000 people will be on the scene when the historic Hambletonian is raced for the first time in Illinois, Don M. Hayes, Secretary of the Fair, said.

"This will mean that approximately 15,000 automobiles will be on the highways Tuesday morning driving toward Du Quoin. Peak traffic loads may be expected on Highways 51 from both south and north, and also on 14 from the east, and the combination of Routes 13 and 127."

Ample traffic direction will be available and State Police will "trouble shoot" all areas by helicopter to avoid jams.

Motorists are urged to avoid, if possible, a seven-mile stretch south of Salem on Route 37 which is undergoing widening and repair. By taking Route 50 west from Salem to U. S. 51, delay caused by the construction project may be avoided.

Plans to File Petition to Revoke Probation

Sheriff William T. Barrett said he planned to file a petition to revoke the probation of James Dooley of Eldorado, found early today in a drunken condition. Dooley a few months ago was put on probation after he pleaded guilty to a burglary and larceny charge.

Barrett said he and Deputy Sheriff Everett N. Sneed were called to the Billman road near Route 13 at 5 a. m. today and there they found Dooley and Toby Mullinix, also of Eldorado, drunk in the car, with the auto stopped in the center of the road and the keys out on the pavement. They brought both men to the Saline county jail.

The sheriff stated that the person who called him about the incident said one of the men was lying outside the car but when the officers arrived both were in the vehicle.

Arrested

Bill Harrison, who has been living on a Carrier Mills rural route and more recently had been staying in Harrisburg, last night was charged with drunkenness, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. He was arrested by City Policemen Pat Atkinson and John Dunn.

ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY

RAILS THAT NEVER RUST

Gleaming in the midday sun... shimmering under the moon's pale glow... afire with gold as the night headlights bear down... rails that never rust.

Rolling wheels won't let them!

Some folks wonder whether it's important to go to Church every Sunday. Why not twice a month—or now and then—or at certain special seasons?

When the wheels stop rolling: RUST! When we relax in our quest of God or interrupt our pursuit of faith, then all the destructive influences in life begin to attack the soul.

The Church helps us keep open our spiritual right of way. And not only church-worship, but personal prayer, Bible reading and family worship rightfully deserve a place on our timetable.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Amos--Crusader for Righteousness'

Amos 1:1-7:15
MEMORY VERSE: "Seek good and not evil, that ye may live." (Amos 5:14)

INTRODUCTION—Much has been said in recent years about the "social gospel," or, the "social implications in the gospel." Let us understand that there is a social side to Christian living and practice. In other words, God has ordained that Christians shall practice social justice.

Social problems are not new. Even back in the Old Testament days there were many, many social problems. God gave instructions as to how to deal with these problems. Amos, the great Old Testament prophet, whom we study in this lesson, was a crusader in social justice.

Some folks today think that the state and secular organizations should take care of all social problems and that the church should have nothing at all to do with them. This is not true! It is contrary to God's word.

One of the greatest social problems confronting the American public today is the liquor problem. It has caused more heartache and trouble than any other problem all over the United States; so let us consider this problem as it is.

I GOD CALLS LEADERS

God seems always to have a "man of the hour." It is God who calls men to places of leadership. There have been times in past history when the leadership in the churches became cold and indifferent spiritually, and God raised up a man to put them to shame. In some churches today there are leaders who seem not to care that liquor is taking a terrible toll in lives and influence.

God called Amos "while he was among the herdsmen." God calls men from their common, everyday places of labor. He calls them to stand up and be counted for His cause. God is calling for real men today who will take a strong, definite stand against the liquor traffic.

II GOD WARNS OF DESTRUCTION

God warned Israel of what would happen unless they put a stop to their liquor drinking and immoral actions. That warning was that their government would be destroyed and they would be taken captive.

Could it happen in America? Of course, it can happen right here. Everyday we hear and read about how terrible is communism—and it is! However, we have not nearly so much to fear from isms from without our country as we do from the liquor traffic and immoralities within our country.

Why cannot our nation wake up and see what has happened to other countries? One time Rome was the mightiest empire on earth. At another time France stood as master of all the world. At still another time Greece was ruler of the world. What happened? Was it some outside military force that defeated them. No! It was the liquor traffic and immorality within that weakened them until they were easy prey to the enemy.

It can happen here! Every person who sells, buys or consumes liquor in any form, at any time, is contributing not only to his own personal downfall; but the downfall of his home and nation.

III GOD DETESTS HYPOCRISY

The church leaders were embarrassed when Amos spoke out against the sins of the people. They requested him to go back to his own country. Amos told them that God had called him to proclaim the truth. He said that he had neither been a prophet, nor "the son of a prophet", but that God had called him while he was among the herdsmen.

CONCLUSION—Sometimes it is most difficult for God's spokesman to proclaim the truth today. The easy thing would be to hobnob with the guilty persons and pat them on the back and tell them that after all they are pret-

Pierce Defeats Red Sox, 4-1; Dodgers Rally to Defeat Braves; Phils Trip Cardinals

By United Press
Billy Pierce is back in the winning groove today just in time to lead the Chicago White Sox' last-ditch stand against the New York Yankees.

The gritty little left hander, often a slow finisher, showed he still is in mid-season form Friday night when he fired a four-hitter that gave the White Sox a 4-1 triumph over the Boston Red Sox. Pierce, who held Ted Williams hitless in four tries, thus moved the White Sox to within 5½ games of the Yankees, who dropped a 10-inning, 5-4 decision to the Cleveland Indians.

The figures are still overwhelmingly against the White Sox' chances of overtaking the Yanks, but the world champions have lost three out of four in the West and could be within striking range when they invade Chicago for a three-game series Tuesday night.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, meanwhile, just about saved their faint pennant hopes in the National League when they rallied for three runs in the ninth inning to top the Milwaukee Braves, 3-2. The Braves, however, retained their 6½-game hold on first place when the Philadelphia Phillies scored a 3-2 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals. The Cincinnati Redlegs snapped a 10-game losing streak with a 6-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates and the New York Giants beat the Chicago Cubs, 3-2, in 16 innings.

Pierce struck out six as he became the majors' first 17-game winner of the year and yielded Boston's run in the fourth inning when Jackie Jensen walloped his 16th homer. The 0-for-4 horsecol-

Musial Has No Regrets at Snapping League Record

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Stan Musial looked back without regret today at the snapping of his National League record for consecutive games but looked ahead to rejoining the St. Louis Cardinals for their chase of the league-leading Milwaukee Braves.

"Maybe I'll be back in four or five days," Musial said. "I hope so, but I guess I have to take it easy."

Musial, who chipped a bone and tore a muscle in his left shoulder Thursday night against Philadelphia, was out of uniform for the first time in six seasons Friday night as the Cards bowed to the Phils, 3-2.

The consecutive game streak of Musial is broken now, but the actual number played in succession won't be decided until next week.

The Man played 862 in a row before he sat out the second game of a double-header at Pittsburgh on July 21. The game was suspended by the Pennsylvania Sunday curfew law and if he makes only a token appearance next Tuesday when the game is resumed his record will jump to 895 games.

Annual Race Tuesday

Expect Record Number of Entries for Hambletonian

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—One of the largest fields in the history of the Hambletonian, trotting's richest stake, was expected through the entry box today for Tuesday's running of the annual race at Du Quoin State Fair for the first time.

Four horses have already been entered for the event, all going through the box Friday. It was the first time in history that as many as four horses have been named on the day before the closing of entries.

Heading the list of entrants already named was Battenkill Stables' Buckeye Demon, the son of the 1948 Hambletonian winner, Demon Hanover. Buckeye Demon, who last week trotted the mile in 2:02.3 at Saratoga, will be driven by Harrison Hoyt, who piloted Demon Hanover to victory to become the only amateur ever to win the Hambletonian.

Also through the entry box were Lord Chuck, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Morris Pivnick, South Orange, N. J., and to be driven by Stanley Dancer; Speedster, owned by Merry Lyn Farm, Williamsville,

Giants Stop Rams

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The National Football League champion New York Giants fired their big guns Friday night to subdue the Los Angeles Rams 24-7 in an exhibition game before 60,094 fans in Memorial Coliseum.

Junior Legion Wins 24th District Championship

The Harrisburg Junior Legion baseball team travelled to Fairfield Thursday night and won the championship of the 24th District league.

The team previously had won the district tournament.

The locals won the league championship by trouncing Fairfield, 9 to 0, as Jerry King pitched a no-hitter, striking out eight and walking two. David Nelson caught in the absence of Ray Hassett, who has a knee injury.

Harrisburg and Fairfield each had a 12-2 record going into the contest.

The locals played errorless ball and made nine hits, Gary Aldridge and Don Pickford getting two each and John Wathen, Ronnie Maynard, Bob Pavelonis, David Nelson and Bob Clark one apiece.

Downstate Fisherman's Guide Conditions Ideal, Few Catches

By Pete Brown
(From reports by the Southern Illinois University Cooperative Fisheries Research Laboratory and the Illinois Department of Conservation).

Fishing conditions are now ideal in Southern Illinois, although neither the fish nor the fishermen seem to realize it.

Boat rock operators report a general slowdown in angling activity despite the dual attraction of clear water and cool weather. The few fishermen who are venturing out are making no spectacular catches.

Small bass, averaging one pound, are still abundant at Harrisburg Lake, where spinners with pork rinds have been a successful lure. Cane-pole fishermen are using minnows to capture good-sized channel catfish.

The water level is dropping at Sahara Lake, where only baby bluegill are showing interest in the small number of baits offered. Crappie fishing is picking up at Crab Orchard Lake. A sudden flourish of bass action there last week was short lived.

Two and three pound bass are being hauled in at Horseshoe Lake, but not regularly. Plug casters are relying mainly on Hell Divers and Shannon Twins. Crappie and bluegill fishing is in the doldrums.

Bass Catches at Little Grassy
Top water lures are attracting bass at Little Grassy Lake. Harold Lefler, Carbondale, snagged two totalling six and one-half pounds on a fly rod popper. The catches were made on the deep edges of brush piles. Using Spin-fins and Bombers, Gene Andres and John Joseph of St. Louis captured eight bass, one a six-pounder. Jim McDaniel, Carbondale, brought in a six and one-half pound bass on a minnow.

Fishermen have reported many excellent bass strikes but few catches at the Carbondale Reservoir. Fishing at Pinckneyville Lake remains poor even when minnows are used.

Lake Murphysboro, one of the "hottest" fishing spots in the area early in August, has yielded few fish since its waters were disturbed in a seasonal "turnover." Lower temperatures cooled the surface water, making it heavy enough to sink to the bottom. The resulting turbulence has given the water a murky appearance.

Before the waters shifted, several nice catches were reported, including a five and one-half pound bass strung up by Joe Meadow, DeSoto, and four channel cat ranging from two to four pounds brought in by Calvin Crook, Dupon. Noel Roscoe, Red Bud, reeled in three bass totalling nearly six pounds and Donald and Carl Counce, Murphysboro, boated ten running up to two pounds. Thirty

Lions Beat Eagles

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The bullet-like passes of quarterback Bobby Layne and the broken field running of Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy helped the Detroit Lions overcome a 10-point halftime deficit to defeat the Philadelphia Eagles, 34-27, in a National Football League exhibition game here.
